That truth is stranger than fiction, has once more been demonstrated in the little town of Fedora, Tenn., the residence of C. V. Pepper. He writes: "I was in bed, entirely disabled with hemorrhages of the lungs and throat. Doctors failed to help me, and all hope had fled when I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery. ### The Magic No. 3

Number three is a wonderful mascot for Geo. H. Parris, of Cedar Grove, Me., according to a letter which reads: "After suffering much with liver and kidney trouble, and becoming greatly discouraged by the failure to find relief, I tried Electric Bitters, and as a result I am a well man today. The first bottle relieved and three bottles completed the cure." Guaranteed best on earth for stomach, liver and kidney troubles, by R. C. Hardwick druggist, 50c.

Wrecks in San Francisco Bay.

What a melancholy sight the bottom of San Francisco bay must present. A diver recently told of going down to the City of Chestnut, sunk many years ago at the mouth of the harbor by one of the large China steamers. He descended with a stout heart and a mild relief to the tragedies of the sea, but when he saw two sisters of charity sleeping quietly in their berths, and nearby a man on his knees, away-back and forth with the motion of the sea, and a dim, mysterious light over all the somber objects, his heart failed him and he gave the signal to be hauled above. The San Rafael lies there, too. She went down in 1901, sent to the bottom by a collision with another steamer in the fog. The relentless sea over her cozy cabins and her stairway, dark with the time.

Letting Go All Holds.

Grit was not a pattern schoolboy. In a description of his days at school he wrote: "Knowing that by arriving late I would not be allowed to enter the class until the end of the first lesson. I used, on wet mornings, to stand under a dripping roof, until I was soaked to the skin. The master then sent me home to change my clothes, but the distance being long this was equivalent to giving me a dispensation! You may guess that I played the prank pretty often, but when at last I carried it so far as to come one day wet through, though it had hardly rained at all, they became suspicious, and kept a lookout. One fine day I was caught, and made an intimate acquaintance with the birch!"

Longfellow's School Days.

Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, the poet, received his early education in a school at Portland, Me. He was pronounced by the master to be "one of the best boys in school." He was a studious child and preferred the company of books to lively companions. He passed the entrance examination to Bowdoin college at 14. He graduated fourth in his class.

Ham Was Hard to Find.

Mrs. M. G. Quackenbush, whom Attorney General Bonaparte has made one of his special assistants in the campaign against the trusts, is a New York lawyer. She tells this story of a railway ham sandwich: "A man paused bitterly in the consumption of a very hard, dry railway ham sandwich and said to the maid to get a new one. The maid went to the kitchen and found the ham was so hard that it was impossible to cut it."

A farmer in central New York state has in his employ a man named George, whose understanding is not very acute. One day as his employer came out to the field where he was working, George hailed him: "Say, boss, who do you like best, Mr. Gorman or Mr. Carney," naming two spinsters whose churches are in the neighborhood. "Well," said the farmer, "I couldn't say. I never heard Mr. Gorman preach." "I don't like that man Carney," said George; "he brags too much. I went to his church last Sunday and he didn't talk about anything but his father's manure and brag about how much finer they were than any one else's."—Lippincott's Magazine.

The Aches and Pains Will Disappear if The Advice of This Hopkinsville
Citizen is Followed.

A woman's back has many aches and pains. Most times 'tis the kidneys' fault. Backache is really kidney ache. That's why Doan's Kidney Pills cure it. Many Hopkinsville women know this. Read what one has to say about it: Mrs. John Coombs, 1226 South Virginia street, Hopkinsville, Ky., says: "For a great many years I suffered from a persistent aching across my loins and through the kidneys. At times my back was so bad I could hardly turn in bed. I could not lie on my back without putting my hand under it for in this way, I seemed to relieve the pain. A friend of Mr. Coombs told him about Doan's Kidney Pills and he got a box for me at L. A. Johnson & Co's. drug store. On using them, I steadily improved until the dreadful aching was relieved and I could attend to my household duties without inconvenience. Doan's Kidney Pills did more for me than any other medicine I ever used, and I heartily commend them."

For sale by all dealers. Price 25c. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan and take no other.

The Weather.

For Kentucky—Fair and Colder Tuesday.

Thaw's second trial will begin in New York next Monday.

E. C. Stodman, a New York lawyer, committed suicide because of the loss of his entire fortune of $1,000,000 by the failure of a building company.

Mrs. Elizabeth McManan died in Waukegan, Ill., last week aged 104 years. Only a short time ago, her neighbor, Mrs. McInty, died at the age of 105.

Henderson wants the summer meeting of the Kentucky Press Association, the Kentuckian would like to see the meeting held at Cerulean Springs early in June, before the rush of guests begins. Capt. R. S. Pool could make the boys have the time of their lives, and Hopkinsville would like to get up an entertainment for one night.

The American Tobacco Co. has closed its warehouse at Frankfort, Ky., and quit the rebanding business. Whether this is in anticipation of a deal with the Society of Equity, or from an inability to get enough unpledged tobacco to keep going, is not known. No explanation was given.

The Powers trial is now being argued and will go the jury tomorrow. The Frankfort Journal gives this prediction:

"A lawyer who has been a regular attendant on the Powers trial end is neither convinced with the eution nor the defense, sizes situation up in this way: 'The greatest evidence produced in any trials of the guilt of Powers is an adduced at his trial, and he is that a verdict of death should be, but a hung jury on politics will most likely be the result. Then he thinks that Powers and another trial, immediately Judge Morris off the Gov. Willson will be called point special judge, application will be made and granted that will be the end of it, pretty plausible program, this in your hat and see if it is applied out.'

Outside View.

on Hopkinsville ended very between Meacham, nce, editors of the Kend Record respectively. We see those two gallant exchange olive branches hardly know which one overted to the principles. They both seem to be and in favor of the As hesoidiers, and against light riders. This may between the two there sum where all con- pet poor may have prop ed enjoy the fruits of on County Times.

Not Be Cured

ATIONS, seat of

One is sorry for the decision on day, because, though their clothes fit ever so well, and are ever so fresh, whom prescribe a dark or sublim blue, and no lace, no velvet (above all, not on coat collars), no slashes, puffs and vandyklings, no pearls and gold, no gules and erure. The common trousers are shapeless things, and, for perfection, you need two pairs every day. Gauds is stunted, display is checked, and, though you may wear brilliant hose with knickerbockers in the codity, glorious waistcoats are rarely seen except in the windows of tailors' shops at Oxford and Cambridge. The dandy can only cultivate immaculate neatness and perfection of fit. Our officers at Lefkanti, when the place was relieved, looked like skeletons, but wore as apruce and next, I have been told, as ever they showed in the park. They cultivated self-respect, like Streithal, the celebrated novelist, who was said to have been the only man that shaved every day in the dreadful winter retreat from Moscow. This is the dandyism which we admire, the perfection of personal self-respect exhibited in Julius Caesar, Claverhouse and Montrose, the combing his lovelocks, like the Three Hundred of Thermopylae, on the morning of his shameful death. He went to the gibbet like a bridegroom to his bride. History, and "the human heart by which we live" have an immortal tenderness for the great, the wise, the brave, who have died dandies as they lived, gallant hearts and stately gentlemen—Century Magazine.

MADE HIS BLUFF STRONG.

Trouble Was the Horse Would Not Be Reasonable.

Charles H. Wilson, the superintendent of Alfred G. Vanderbilt's remarkable stables, said at Newport of a groom he had discharged. "The man was a bluff. He pretended to know all about horses, when in truth he could hardly tell a hackney from a cow. We soon got on to him. His case was like the fake blacksmith's. There was a chap who thought blacksmithing looked simple and easy, and, being a bit of work, he decided to have a try at it. He went to a smith and asked for a job. 'Well,' said the smith, you are a strong, likely-looking fellow. What experience have you had?' 'Eleven years,' was the prompt answer. 'All right, I'll try you,' said the blacksmith. 'Show that mare while I go home to dinner.' The smith, on his return from dinner frowned, and said to the new hand: 'What, haven't you got that mare shod yet?' The bluffer bit his lip, flushed and replied: 'I can't get her confounded foot in the vice.'

Liquor She Floated In.

On their arrival in New Zealand, according to London Tit-Bits, a party of English people drank the health of the vessel which had brought them safely to their destination. One of the gentlemen who was asked to join in this ceremony replied: 'No, I am a teetotaler; but I'll willingly drink success to the ship in the liquor she floats in.' A friend disappeared and returned with a glass of water. After a complimentary apostrophe to the water, the recipient tossed the water off at once, but immediately sputtered: 'Ugh!—ah—oh—this is—oh—what on earth is this?' That," said his friend, "why you've drunk success to our noble ship in the identical liquor she floats in."

Polite English Shop Girls.

"I wish you would import more English shop girls," said the invertebrate shopper, according to the New York Press. "I came across one yesterday. I was having a little white evening dress. There were about a hundred styles to select from and I think I looked at fifty. I looked at so many that after an hour, when I had at last selected one, I said to her with an apologetic laugh, 'I've been an awful lot of trouble to you, haven't I? I think you'll wish I'll never come again.' 'Indeed, I will not,' she answered in her pretty English way. 'It was no trouble. None at all. It has been a pleasure to wait on you.'"

Monkey's Intelligence.

In the Breslau Zoological Garden a monkey of rare intelligence was found to be suffering from defective eyesight, caused by cataracts. A surgeon performed an operation relieving the trouble somewhat, but the eyes were weak, and it was deemed best to keep him in a cage.

TALES OF TRAVELERS

HOW SMALL THE WORLD IS, IS SHOWN BY ODD MEETINGS.

People Run Across Acquaintances in All Sorts of Out of the Way Places in Every Part of the World.

Two men left the city the same day going in opposite directions, says the New York Sun. They met on their return and exchanged experiences.

"I came back from my journey," said the man who had spent his time in New England, more impressed than ever with the idea that the world is growing smaller.

"I went where I had never been before and where I was likely to meet no one whom I knew. At the first I met the stranger upon my right looked up from his newspaper and said something about the bridge disaster at Quebec.

"The stranger said he had a special dread of bridge accidents since he had been a victim in the Ashtabula affair a number of years before. He related his experience and concluded with the statement that he owed his rescue to a man whom he had never met before or since.

"The incident as described by him was vivid in my recollection. I was the man who had saved him. The accident happened about 30 years ago. Singular that at our first meeting at the affair the conversation opened on the subject mentioned.

"After the meal I walked into the office of the hotel and looked over the register. I noticed a familiar name. The writer was from my home town. I looked him up.

"We had not seen one another for 40 years. And then we had passed as enemies. It was about a girl. We had a good laugh over the meeting, in a strange part of the country, and concluded that we had the best of the third fellow who won the girl here and was afterward—but that is of no interest to you."

"Like you," began the other returned tourist, "I went into a new country to me. I thought I had lost myself away up the Saguenay river."

"One day I went out in a canoe looking for fish. After the catch my guide paddled ashore, and we prepared for a feast. Soon afterward another tourist landed nearby. He hadn't had a bite.

"After I had killed him a while I asked him to sit down and take pollock. Then we fell to our pipes. You know that is the bridge on which all smokers meet. Later on I offered him my flask.

"He declined, and laughingly remarked that if he had not changed his usual garb for the outfit he had on, he might not have been asked. He was a minister. His story was interesting.

"He left college in this country after graduation and went abroad. He kept on until he reached India. There he became interested in commercial pursuits.

"He failed. He went broke. He met a showman who was organizing a minstrel company. He engaged to go with him as a tenor. The organization made money. It landed in Australia. There it went to pieces.

"One of the company was a negro. He and this man who had shared my fish dinner started out together to find work. They fell in with a Salvation Army outfit. Both were good singers. The nigger was that the white man became converted.

"He left the Salvation company and became an Episcopal minister. The negro followed in his steps. The white man is rector of a church in the north west. The negro is a missionary in Siam.

"What is your name?" I asked the dominie. And when he gave it I replied, "we were classmates at university."

"That was the only experience I had during my trip. But I think it beats yours."

"What was the negro's right name?" asked the man who told the first story.

"The dominie gave it as ————."

Then the first speaker said: "It's the same coon. He was the son of my father's old slave. He ran away when he was a boy, and the first we ever heard of him was after he had become a preacher. I think this rounds up the two stories even."

Birds' Lightning Rods.

The humming bird, no less than man, protects his habitation with a lightning rod," said an ornithologist. "Oh, you future fakery!" "It is the truth. The humming bird uses its sharp beak, where devils and storms abound, to convert the lightning rods into a safe with which to store its treasure."

his better judgment, he would not mind and had it down almost to their feet. The humming bird's beak is a lightning rod. It is the truth. The humming bird uses its sharp beak, where devils and storms abound, to convert the lightning rods into a safe with which to store its treasure."

PARENTS OF GEO. GRAY.

Approaching Term of Court is Now Attracting Much Interest.

Adj. Gen. P. P. Johnston returned to the city Saturday night, and was here Sunday and Monday. He expected to go to Frankfort last night to make his formal report of the inspection he has made of the various markets of the Black Patch. A large number of witnesses from Trigg county were in the city yesterday in response to summonses issued by Fire Marshal Mott Ayres to testify in the investigation he is now holding. Among them were James Gray and wife, parents of George Gray, who was killed; Perry Noel, Esq. Creekmore, Dr. J. H. Lackey and others of the same neighborhood.

These witnesses and other Trigg county people came as far as Gracely on a special train and arrived over the L. C. at 6:35 a. m. Col. Ayres was busy all day yesterday examining the various witnesses, one at a time, in his rooms at Hotel Latham.

THE SPECIAL COURT.

The near approach of the term of the special court is causing much interest to be taken in the matter. It is held by authority that Judge Thomas Cook has expressed a willingness to retire if the Governor prefers that account be held by officials entirely removed from local influences. County Attorney Jno. C. Duffy has proposed to C. Monmouth's Attorney Perry P. Smith that they two decline to act and let Gov. Willson appoint a special attorney pro tem, to carry out his own ideas in his own way. Mr. Smith said he would take the matter under advisement and announce his decision Wednesday.

The grand jurors drawn for the regular term in February have been summoned for the special term Jan. 1.

The following is the list:
—L. N. Harned, Laytonville; C. C. Carter, Pembroke; W. A. Glass, Church Hill; J. D. Lacy, near city; Alex Carpenter, near city; Tom Hadcock, Concord; P. Armstrong, East's School House; M. ## SCHOOL TEACHERS

Have Not Received Pay for December.

Many of the teachers in the county public schools were doubtless disappointed in not receiving their pay for the month of December. Those who did not have a reserve on hand were unable to make Christmas as happy for their friends as they intended.

County Superintendent W. E. Gray was yesterday. He has no idea when his check will come. He has written to the authorities at Frankfort in regard to the matter but has not received information that gives him any idea as to how long it will be before he will be able to pay the county teachers. As soon as he receives the money he will let the disappointed teachers know when they can call at his office and get their salaries.

BIG FIRE

At Garrettsburg Last Sunday Night.

Garrettsburg, this county had perhaps the largest fire in its history last Sunday night.

The storehouse occupied by G. W. Allen, dealer in general merchandise, was burned to the ground with contents.

The dwelling house of Mr. Allen was also destroyed. The stock of goods was insured for $2,000. We could not learn whether or not Mr. Allen carried any insurance on his household goods or whether the owner of the buildings carried any insurance.

The store house and the building occupied as residence by Mr. Allen belonged to Mrs. Dr. Wilson.

The origin of the fire is unknown, but from what our informant said there is reason to believe it was the work of an incendiary. The fire was discovered a little before or about 12 o'clock. A high wind was blowing at the time and it was impossible to check the fire until the two buildings had been destroyed.

WEATHER CLERK

On a Lark and "Raised the Wind"

Friday, Saturday and Sunday were beautiful, spring-like days, but the weather clerk gave the crank a turn Sunday night about 11 o'clock and gave us thunder, lightning, wind and rain. Yesterday morning a 30-mile gale was blowing from the west and there was a very marked fall in the temperature. We have had far less good weather up to date than for several years, fires having been necessary nearly every day since the middle of October. Up to yesterday we have had no real cold weather.

HERE AND THERE.

In the face of financial troubles in the closing quarter the year 1907 was a record-breaker for industrial development in the South. Texas leads in the establishment of new industries and Kentucky ranks ninth, with 371.

Reports called for by the Banking Department of the State of New York show that there was quick recovery from the shaky conditions of the last few weeks and that all the banks and trust companies of Greater New York are in good condition, with their capital unimpaired and the cash reserves unusually large.

The big tobacco barn of W. Z. Thompson, a prominent planter of Fayette county, was destroyed by fire Thursday night and 20,000 pounds of tobacco burned.

Tracks around the barn lead Mr. Thompson to believe the fire was the work of incendiaries.

HALF MILLION.

In Gold Dumped on Streets of Chicago.

Chicago, Dec. 30.—Canvas bags containing gold and silver coin to the amount of half a million dollars were scattered about the corner of La Salle and Adams streets for a short time last night, but they were soon gathered up and taken to a place of safety under the protection of a squad of police. An express wagon on its way from the Northwestern to the La Salle-street station with a load of specie guarded by Barney Terback of Buffalo, N. Y., and Henry Kerker, of Chicago, was struck by a street car.

Terback and Kerker were thrown to the streets and the bags of specie on top of them. Terback received a fracture of the skull. Kerker was badly bruised by the heavy bags of money falling on him. Both men were taken to a hospital.

MAN KILLED

Had $3,000 Sewed In His Coat.

Chicago, Dec. 28.—The Chicago police found $3,023 sewed in the lining of the working coat of David Ehler, a section hand employed on the Chicago and Northwestern road, who was struck by a street car and killed in the yard.

The source of Ehler's money is a mystery, as no one knows that he possessed so much small change.

INFERNAL MACHINE

Sent Through Post Office at Erie, Pennsylvania.

Erie, Pa., Dec. 24.—While distributing Christmas bundles in the South Erie postoffice this afternoon an employee became suspicious of a package, the end of which was broken open and upon examination it was found to contain an infernal machine so constructed that the opening of the box would cause an explosion that would have undoubtedly killed all persons near it and set fire to everything in the vicinity. The package was addressed to Archie Carr, 2206 Cherry street, and had been mailed in this city.

The following inscription was on the inside: "You may perhaps find the cover will catch a little when you open the box, but pay no attention to it. Merry Xmas."

HOME-COMERS

On Big Steamers Beaten out of Christmas Dinner.

New York, Dec. 29.—A fleet of seven Transatlantic steamers—the Campania, Cedric, St. Louis, Pannonia, Pretoria, Coronia, and Minneapolis—came creeping into port to-day bearing scars of battering seas which delayed them a day in their trip across the Atlantic.

On Christmas day the storm was so heavy that only a dozen of the cabin passengers of the St. Louis went to the dining room for dinner. None of the steamers was seriously damaged, though at one time the officers of the Pretoria used oil to calm the turbulent seas. The Campania brought $3,000,000 in specie and the Cedric $1,200,000.

It is estimated that 40,000 persons will be thrown out of employment when the saloons close.

The Czar and Taft.

All the resources of the Czar's vast empire were strained to impress upon the mind of W. H. Taft that the mist of Russia is the real thing. From the hour of his arrival at Vladivostok until the farewell audience in the Czar's own study at Tsarsko-Selo, the American Secretary of War was literally in the toils of the immense Russian military machine. When he was not confronted by bayonets of the infantry or not under escort by squadrons of cavalry he was defensed by the roar of artillery. Mr. Taft's entreaties that his reception be made informal and unofficial was politely ignored, for the reason, as the Paris Temps believes, that the Czar wanted his distinguished guest to realize that though the Mikado may possess a fine fighting force, that of the man of iron is even finer. No political circumstance likely to convert an irascible might was over Mr. Taft was sedulously kept from contact with the Majesty's subjects and chance to converse with the

TATTOOING CRAZE

DISFIGURING ONE'S SKIN NOW THE PROPER THING.

Americans in Europe Seem to Have Gotten Mad Over the Subject According to an Authority in London.

Americans have gone tattoo mad. Such is the latest to be drawn from a recent conversation with Alfred South, a famous English and continental tattooist. According to the artist the rich have stoch the tattoo of the poor. The practice of covering the body with elaborate designs, which was supposed to be the special weakness of the low-class sailor, has spread the social ladder and is now the amusement of the aristocracy. Certain well-known Americans, if we are to believe Mr. Smith, would present the appearance of animated picture galleries if we see them in the nude. Their backs, chests, legs and arms are covered with crouching tigers, poised snakes and more or less beautiful women. The son of one of the largest watch manufacturers in the United States, who is many times a millionaire, had a fac simile of his father's particular brand of timepiece tattooed on his chest by Mr. South. He had the hands showing the hour to be exactly 12 and remarked that no matter where he was he could always refer to it at exactly that time of day and always correct his fallible timepiece.

Many Americans have commissioned Mr. South to tattoo copies of pictures by their favorite artist on their shoulders, chests or backs. In this respect Charles Dana Gibson easily leads the field as the most popular American draughtsman. One American millionaire, a crack rifle shot and premier horse owner, is the proud possessor of a "Gibson Girl" on his left shoulder.

It seems that many Americans have had their full names tattooed on their wrists and forearms. Mr. South says he has many American women as customers. The sterner sex, according to the artist, and they run to names, or the private crests of their sweethearts. The work is usually done on the legs, but many of the fairer sex have been elaborate designs executed on their backs. In this as in other walks of life the fair woman has lived up to her reputation for a chameleonlike state of mind, for the artist declares he has several times changed the name of a sweetheart for women customers.

The tattooing craze appears to be even more advanced in England and on the continent than in the United States. Here it seems to have touched even the highest rung of the social ladder. The prince of Wales himself is said to have some most artistic work on his arm, while the crown princess of Denmark, Lady Cornwall West, and members of the royal family of Russia are said to be devotees of the craze. Some of them are even said to have become adept at the art itself.

Among society at the present time problems in bridge are especially popular as subjects for the tattoo artist.

One woman recently had "her last will and testament" in four colors and many elaborations, tattooed on her back. Religious devotees have peculiar hobbies, and a particularly pious old lady recently had a likeness of her priest tattooed on her arm by Mr. South.

Languages Studied by Japanese.

A letter from Japan, published in Berlin, says that the study of the German language in Japan has fallen off in the last few years. At the close of the school term of 1906 in Tokio the department of examinations reported that the following languages had been studied in the schools: English, Chinese, German and Russian. French, Korean and Spanish were neglected. In 1904 the number of students of Chinese increased 100 per cent, and the study of English fell off, while there was a marked increase of German students.

In 1907 statistics show that the German language has lost in favor, and it has gone back to seventh place. English has not retrograded, and has 30 students in the "final" class to 13 young men who are being urged to study German, but not study English, but for those who are studying German.
